

BOY CONFESSES THEFT OF AUTO

Two Youths Picked Up Here Pilfered Car From Shippensburg Man.

TAKEN BACK TO FRANKLIN

At the end of a thorough cross examination by Sergeant Joseph Merrifield and M. W. Albright, local state troopers, Tuesday afternoon, Dallas Layden, seventeen-year-old boy, confessed that he and his companion stole the automobile found lying upturned on the Lincoln Highway a short distance above Cashtown.

As the result of this confession Trooper Albright left Gettysburg on the Philadelphia and Reading railroad at 5.55 o'clock this morning for Shippensburg where Layden and the other youth pilfered the machine from Solomon Hancock, of that town.

The state troopers found out also during the examination in the county jail that the twenty-one-year old boy who gave his name as M. Layden, brother of Dallas, is in reality Marian Richardson and that both are residents of Kokomo, Indiana, instead of Philadelphia as they registered at the Eagle hotel early Tuesday morning.

About the only part of the original tale believed true was that the two young men were really magazine salesmen from St. Louis and were touring southern Pennsylvania to take subscriptions for various periodicals.

In his story of the theft young Layden said that he and his pal "struck hard luck and landed in Shippensburg broke." There they decided they wanted to get to Gettysburg and having no money for carfare managed to get hold of the Ford touring car of Solomon Hancock in which they hoped to make the trip without being discovered.

"While on the road our lights went out," said young Layden, "and while rounding a turn about eight miles up the road between here and Chambersburg we bumped into something in the dark and turned over."

The original story of the two boys was that the taxi cab in which they were riding here from York broke down east of town and they were compelled to walk the remaining miles into Gettysburg.

Trooper Albright at first thought the owner of the stolen machine, was Mrs. E. L. Burnett, of Norristown. By communication with the State Highway Department, however, Sergeant Merrifield found out that the new license tags, number 177308, belonged to the Shippensburg man.

The case against the youth will, of course come up in the Franklin county court instead of here.

WILL GIVE $2,000 FOR HOSPITAL

Commissioners of Adams Decide to Give County Money For Maintenance.

At their regular weekly meeting in the court house Tuesday afternoon the Adams county commissioners, Reuben H. Lupp, William M. Linn and Walter C. Snyder, definitely decided to appropriate $2,000 to the Annie M. Warner hospital after that institution has commenced operation. If on October 1 the financial conditions of the county permit the commissioners state that at that time they will appropriate another $1,000 of the county fund to the cause.

Under an Act of Assembly the commissioners are enabled to appropriate funds from the county treasury for the maintenance of a charitable hospital after it is in operation. The act states explicitly, however, that no money can be given for endowment purposes so that the $2,000 appropriated by the commissioners of Adams will not be added to the total of the endowment drive committee.

No resolution was passed by the commissioners at their Tuesday meeting to appropriate the sum and that sum and that action will not be taken until after the hospital opens.

Whether or not the county funds will be able to stand the withdrawal of another $1,000 in October depends to a large extent on the amount of road and bridge building that will be done by the county during the coming summer. Since Messrs. Snyder, Lupp and Linn went into office the expenditures for those causes have drained heavily upon the treasury.

MERCHANTS PLEASED

Bargain in Prunes Sells 1,200 Pounds in Waynesboro.

Merchants of Gettysburg who heard the presentation of the Neosho plan of merchandising as it was given here will be interested in the statements made by Waynesboro business men who tried out the plan Monday when they staged a co-operative sale. One grocery store sold nearly 1,200 pounds of prunes and during the last few hours of the sale was compelled to substitute another bargain lead.

By 4:30 in the afternoon one hardware store had sold 158 galvanized buckets.

One department store sold out its stock of more than 700 dozens spools of thread and 50 dozen pairs of hose. Another grocery store sold 65 gallons of syrup and another disposed of 150 brooms. A novel bargain that attracted hundreds was that of a restaurant which offered coffee for one cent a cup.

BILL IN HOUSE FOR HOSPITAL

Representative Elgin Fathers Appropriation Measure For Local Institution

CARRIES WITH $12,000

Was Framed When Board of Charities Did Not Recommend Hospital. First American Legion Measure Passed.

Representative Eugene Elgin, of this county, has framed a bill which provides for the appropriation of $12,000 for the Annie M. Warner Hospital. The measure has been presented to the Pennsylvania Legislature now in session in Harrisburg and is the first proposal fathered by the Adams representative.

When the State Commission of Charities failed to recommend the appropriation of $10,000 asked for the Annie M. Warner Hospital, the only alternative was a separate bill to secure funds by which the institution could be assured of maintenance. The appropriation of $12,000 asked in the bill of Dr. Elgin is for a two-year period. It was presented to the House Tuesday along with a number of other special appropriation measures.

The first of the American Legion measures was finally passed Tuesday when the Berntheisel bill giving preference to civil appointments to veterans of wars was voted upon favorably by the Senate. The bill was amended to eliminate Civil War veterans from the list. The American Legion was active in the support of this measure.

Another measure presented Tuesday that is of interest to Adams county residents was the bill appropriating $12,000 to the Paradise Rectory and Agricultural School, near Abbottstown.

Other bills of special interest were presented as follows:

Long, Chester—Amending the game code so that the license fee shall be $1.25 instead of $1.10; that naturalization papers must be presented to the county treasurer by applicants of foreign birth; that the license tag be displayed on the outer garment between the back and shoulders and that licenses for the current year only shall be worn, with other regulations.

SEEDS READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

County Residents Should Apply at York Office of Congressman Brooks.

Congressman E. S. Brooks has ready for distribution, he announces, a supply of vegetable seeds put out by the United States Department of Agriculture. Adams county residents will be able to get seed by calling at, or addressing, the Congressional office in York. Last spring Congressman Brooks undertook to supply seed to the pupils of every school in York and Adams counties. He states that he received many favorable reports of the success of this method of bringing the seed into as many families of the district as possible. A reduced allotment will not permit him to continue the same method. The York congressman's allotment this year includes popular garden varieties, but he states that he will not be able to furnish any other than the assortments included in the packet allotted to him. He has also, for free distribution, bulletins giving instructions for successful gardening.

Mr. Brooks will be able to supply a very limited number of requests for trial plantings of alfalfa, soybeans, or Sudan grass. Only one variety may be supplied to an applicant.

WRITES OF OLD TIME RIFLEMEN

Interesting Article By F. Mark Bream Appears in National Sportsman.

TWO ARE STILL LIVING

Joseph Shoemaker, Buchanan Valley, And William Benchoff, Blue Ridge Summit, Surviving Members.

An interesting article telling of the old time southern Pennsylvania hunters and the many handicaps under which they hunted appears in the February issue of The National Sportsman, the leading magazine of its kind printed in this country.

This article is written by F. Mark Bream, of Gettysburg, secretary of the Marsh Creek Hunting Club, a recognized authority on South Mountain hunting history. While not on duty as a city mail carrier here Mr. Bream devotes a large part of his time to discussing and writing about past happenings in the hunting regions of Adams, Franklin and Cumberland counties.

His story headed "Old Time Riflemen of Southern Pennsylvania" follows in part:

In these days of automatic rifles, hammerless doublebarrel shotguns, Browning patents, etc., we young hunters know nothing of what our forefathers had to contend with to be a fine rifle shot. We pick up our rifle and a box of cartridges, go out and shoot until they are all gone—and do this same thing over and over every day—with the finest pieces of steel that machinery can turn out, and many of us are good shots. We should be. We have the finest kind of sights, the best smokeless ammunition, with plenty of practice, shooting away enough lead in one year to have made balls for granddad's flintlock for a lifetime. Granddad perhaps inherited his flintlock rifle from his father, or worked for years to get money together to buy it. Then he shot deer, elk, game of all kinds, trapped and traded to the fur buyer for his powder and lead to make his rifle bullets. On wet, cold days he molded bullets all day long, picking them over and over to get the perfect ones, and finally when in the woods he did not waste a single shot. Always tried with that old flintlock to make a dead-shot. He still hunted the elk, deer, bear and wild turkey, and always shot a buck deer, if possible, for one buckskin was worth a Spanish dollar. This is where we get the "slang phrase" for our silver dollar, which is very often called "one buck."

During the late fall and until early spring, shooting matches were held around at the different taverns, stores

Two hundred and fifty residents of Bendersville and vicinity were entertained in Fruit Growers' Hall, Tuesday night, by the efforts of several score child amateur actors and actresses appearing in the comedy, "The Marriage of the Midgets."

Throughout the comedy the audience was kept in constant laughter by the speeches and actions of the little actors who ranged in age from three to ten years. TAXI MAN ROBBED AND MURDERED

Hagerstown Automobile Driver Found Dead Along The Road.

CAR AND MONEY MISSING

Indications Are That He Was Shot Down While at The Wheel. Woman Heard Shots.

(By Associated Press)

Hagerstown, Feb. 9.—With a gaping wound in his head, a revolver lying under him and his automobile, watch, overcoat and money missing, Garfield Miller, 28, a taxi driver of Hagerstown, was found dead in the ditch along the road near Falling Waters, across the Potomac river, in West Virginia from Williamsport early this morning by a party of autoists who were returning to Hagerstown from a dance. From all indications Miller was robbed and murdered and his slayers stole his automobile and escaped. A general search is being made by the police for them.

From the position of the wound Miller was shot down at the wheel. A woman living nearby said she heard muffled shots. The body was removed to Martinsburg and a coroner's inquest will be held.

The police learned that Miller left here about 7 o'clock yesterday evening taking several men to Martinsburg to a dance.

A mere man, ignorant of the boycott, bought two dozen rolls yesterday. On leaving the bakery women attacked him, stung his rolls into the gutter and pursued the buyer down the street. Other attacks occurred in various parts of the city. Unemployment conditions have embittered many consumers against retailers, it is said.

WOMAN TEMPTED HIM FOR MONEY

Son of Candidate For Vice Presidency Defendant in Suit.

HUSBAND ASKS $500,000

John T. Davis Says Mrs. Sullivan Got Money From Him to Give to Her Husband.

Washington, Feb. 9.—John T. Davis, son of Henry Cassaway Davis, vice-presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket with Alton B. Parker, who is being sued in the District Supreme Court for $500,000 damages for the alleged alienation of affections of the wife of David W. Sullivan, former stockbroker and liquor dealer here, yesterday went on the witness stand.

The tall and broad shouldered defendant manifested no uneasiness as he related in detail his relations with the pretty hair dresser, Nan Stock, by which name Sullivan's wife was known.

Better Looking, She Said
"One afternoon in January, 1918," said Davis, "while I was in Washington on a week-end trip, a woman called me up and said she had heard me make a dinner engagement with two women. She said she was younger and better looking than either of them, and that she was 'down on her luck.' She asked if I would take her to dinner instead."

After their first meeting, Davis testified, Mrs. Sullivan often pressed him for money which, she alleged, was to redeem jewelry she had "in hock." He admitted giving her a "great deal" of money.

At Husband's Instigation
"Nan admitted to me," said Mr. Davis, "that her requests for money were at the instigation of her husband. She told me they would take a trip around the world after they had got enough from me, but Nan said her husband double-crossed her."

Davis related how Mrs. Sullivan was in his apartment at the Bellevue Hotel the night of February 22 and said she gave him a "drink" which put him in a stupor for about eight hours. He admitted he was "doped" similarly about ten years ago in Cincinnati.

Called Him "Paddy"
"She always called me 'Paddy,'" said Davis, "and told me her husband often beat her and was unkind to her. When I learned she was married, I told her I was through with her." When asked if Sullivan had called him a liar when he said he did not know Nan Stock was Sullivan's wife, Davis replied emphatically, with a nod toward Sullivan, "No man ever said that to me and got away with it."

Admits Carrying Pistol
Davis said he was in the habit of carrying a pistol in his kit when traveling, and in states where the law allowed it, carried one in a holster. At this juncture, when the attorney used the word "revolver" Davis proceeded to explain the difference between a revolver and a pistol.

Mrs. Erna Manning, an associate of Mrs. Sullivan, testified she had seen Mrs. Sullivan give her husband money.

Davis said that at Mrs. Sullivan's request he had given her checks made out in the name of Nan Stock when she expected to cash them in Washington, and in the name of Nan Sullivan when she planned to cash them elsewhere.

WIDOW LOSES IN HEART BALM SUIT

Mrs. Shonts Sued Mrs. Smith For Million Dollar Damages.

New York, Feb. 9.—The $1,000,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Milla D. Shonts, widow of Theodore P. Shonts, head of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, against Mrs. Amanda Thomas, alleging alienation of her husband's affection, was dismissed yesterday by Supreme Court Justice McAvoy on motion by the defense. The court held that Mrs. Shonts had failed to set forth sufficient facts in papers filed in connection with the suit to warrant a trial.

Mrs. Thomas was the principal beneficiary named in the will of Mr. Shonts. Mrs. Shonts is contesting the will. Referring to a release from possible damages, alleged by Mrs. Thomas to have been given her by Mrs. Shonts in 1917, Justice McAvoy said that if Mrs. Shonts wished to show fraud or duress "she ought to set forth facts which would make such claim appear plausible."

"The purely perfunctory prattle of fraud, duress and intimidation," the decision continued, "is ominous with the dearth of facts."

In her answer, Mrs. Thomas denied that there had been any impropriety in her relations with Mr. Shonts. She declared, furthermore, that she had not alienated the affections of the traction man, but that his affections had been alienated by the acts and disposition of Mrs. Shonts herself.

London, Feb. 9.—Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador to the United States, is returning to Washington armed with full powers to press forward proposals for a world conference on disarmament, according to reports published in the afternoon papers.

It is declared that this was one of the most important questions the Ambassador discussed with the Prime Minister.

BORAH NAVY MOVE VETOED

Washington, Feb. 9.—The Senate Naval Committee has concluded from testimony of naval experts that it would be unwise and inadvisable to stop work for six months on capital ships building for the Navy while experts study the question of best types based on the lessons of the world war.

In response to Senator Borah's resolution of inquiry as to the advisability of such a move, the committee will report its conclusions to the Senate, probably today. Its report will be prepared by Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, who was instructed to draft it after final committee action on the proposal yesterday.

The committee acted in executive session, but so far as could be learned there was no division of opinion, at least as expressed in the vote cast. Action was taken soon after members of the Navy General Board appeared to oppose the proposal. Previous to that the committee had heard Secretary Daniels and Rear Admirals W. S. Sims, president of the Naval War College, at Newport, R. I., and Bradley A. Fiske, retired, former aide for operations.

Tokio, Feb. 9.—The dramatic expulsion of M. Ozaki from the Kensei-Kai, following his determined stand for reduction in armaments and his insistence on strict constitutional procedure in dealing with the suffrage question has made him a striking national figure. The newspapers are devoting columns to him.

The correspondent yesterday found M. Ozaki at his home in the suburbs, where he was surrounded by politicians with whom he was eagerly discussing the situation in Japan.

"My resolution," said M. Ozaki, "already has been filed with the secretary of the Diet. Briefly it follows the line of the resolution of Senator Borah. It provides that Japan should communicate with the United States and Great Britain on naval reduction. My idea is that an international agreement on this should be reached."

"As for army expenses, I will propose that expenditures should be reduced as far as possible and that army projects should be in accordance with the covenant of the League of Nations."

COUNCIL RETALIATES

The Chambersburg Town Council will vote in the near future on an ordinance covering rental and license fees for the inspection of all telegraph, trolley and telephone poles in the borough with a view of levying a standard tax on all poles. A similar order was received by the Gettysburg Council. It is claimed the free telephones were placed by an agreement made in the franchise with the company.

PRISONER SNEAKS BACK TO PRISON

Notorious Murderer Caught Climbing Walls After Week of Freedom.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 9.—Joseph Wendling, central figure ten years ago in a Louisville murder, last night added another to his remarkable exploits, State Reformatory officials announced today. He broke prison, they said, apparently paraded the streets of Frankfort in woman's dress and when he tired of his brief freedom was caught by guards ascending a rope ladder in an attempt to scale the reformatory walls and re-enter his prison home.

Believed "Woman In Black"

The fact that he carried a dress led prison officials to believe Wendling may be responsible for the appearance of the "Woman in Black," whose presence on the streets has been reported a number of times to the Frankfort police.

Wendling secreted himself in the prison chapel after a picture show last week and in some unexplained manner made his way outside the reformatory walls. His absence was noted and a search instituted but he voluntarily returned.

Once Absent For Week.

Wendling, subject of a nation-wide search in 1909 as the slayer of Alma Kellner, eight years old, whose body was found buried under a Louisville church of which Wendling was janitor, was found in San Francisco in July, 1910.

SNOWED THREE DAYS

St. John's Isolated By Heaviest Fall In 30 Years.

St. John's, N. F., Feb. 9.—Newfoundland last night huddled under its heaviest snow blanket in thirty years with a blizzard of three days still raging unabated. Rail, water and highway traffic has been suspended throughout the colony and pedestrians here yesterday were compelled to use snow shoes to venture into the streets.

All pre-Lenten social events and entertainments have been abandoned, with snow drifting hourly higher in all thoroughfares.

The barometer again was falling this evening, with no signs visible of a break in the storm.

FAVOR RAISE IN TEACHERS' PAY

Finegan Says Minimum Should Be $100 a Month. For Higher Standards.

The minimum salary for all teachers in Pennsylvania will be $100 per month, if the suggestion made by Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, Superintendent of Public Instruction to the House committee on education is carried out in legislation. Efforts to get the administration educational program under way was started Tuesday.

Among the recommendations made by the Superintendent were increase in the school terms, increased qualification standards and strengthening of the compulsory educational law. On the question of increased standards Dr. Finegan warned against anything that would bring hardship to the experienced teachers now in service.

He said elementary school teachers should have a high school and normal school education, and high school teachers a college education, but added that extension courses could be provided to give teachers an opportunity to study and qualify. The lengthening of the term, he said, could be done gradually.

quiring the study one day each year of the connection of Thaddeus Stevens with the school system of Pennsylvania.

Senator Eyre, Chester—Reappropriating $350,000 for consolidated schools and transportation of pupils so as to make it available the next two years.

Senator Crow, Fayette—Amending fictitious name act by providing contracts made by firms failing to register shall not be impaired if they comply with the law.

Senator Snyder, Blair—Providing dogs attacking poultry may be killed as they may be now if they attack livestock.

Bills flooded both branches of the Legislature Tuesday and so many were received in the House that a second session was called to convene during the evening. The Senate adjourned for the week after a session marked by the presentation of bills, including the State Constitutional Convention bill. This measure would submit to the voters at the September primary the question whether there shall be a constitutional convention and providing, in event of assent on the proposition, election of delegates at the November election.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders From The Pennsylvania State College.

Sprays—It is a good thing to bear in mind that it is soon time to get lime-sulphur and arsenate of lead on hand for orchard spraying during the coming season.—State College.

Livestock Purchases—This is a good time to start out in the pure bred livestock business. Desirable breeding animals can now be purchased at a reasonable figure. It is quite likely that prices will rise again as soon as conditions become more settled. The best time to go into the business is when prices are low and not when there is a strong demand for all surplus stock.—State College.

Poor Record Dairy Cows—Is the first year's milk record a good index of what a cow will do in later life? Some cows make a poor record the first year and the farmer often keeps her hoping that she will develop into a good cow later on. A study of the records of the Pennsylvania State College herd shows that when a heifer freshens normally her first year's record is almost conclusive evidence as to her future performance.

Farm Machinery—Is the spray pump in good condition for the work of the coming season? Orders for broken parts should be placed immediately.—State College.

Chicks—Farmers and poultrymen make more money in the fall when they have chicks that are hatched early and begin to lay when egg prices are high. The incubator cannot be started too soon now. Use eggs from your best laying hens.—State College.

Home Garden—It is advisable for the home gardener to secure or locate manure for the garden. Well-rotted manure is best and can be applied any time.—State College.

and mills, in a given neighborhood. These matches were generally for turkeys or chickens, but nearly always a grand prize was to be shot off during the day, a beef, hog, rifle or something of value, to attract riflemen from beyond their own neighborhood to compete with those who nearly always attended every match given in that particular vicinity. One match held in Franklin township, Adams county, in 1829 was advertised by handbills as follows:

NOTICE MARKSMAN

There is a premium to be shot for near the home of Daniel Bittinger, half mile west of Hosack's Tavern, on the 17th day of April, the premium is a bear the first, and a deer the second, and all those that are fond of sport are invited to the match. April 4th, 1829.

MANG.

This notice is owned by the writer, who found it in an old ledger belonging to his great-grandfather, Peter Mark, who kept a general store in the village of Cashtown, Adams county. This village lies at the foot of the South Mountains, which is a spur of the Blue Ridge Mountains. His descendants are still living there and are all good riflemen.

Among the best rifle shots of the old school were: Dr. William C. Stem, David Stover, Jacob Mark, Andrew Wisler, William Kane, Thomas Lipencott, John Dillon, Samuel McKenrick, Andrew McKenrick, Thomas Goodman, Daniel Kuhn, Daniel Bittinger, Adam Newman, George Sheely, Shoemaker John Stover, Peter Mark, Peter Moritz, William M. Scott, Hugh Heagy, Levi Gilbert, Henry Knouse, William Hahn, Jacob Mickle, Thomas Daywalt, Israel Mickle, Samuel Lauver, David Bingham, Joseph Baar, Jacob Moritz, Joseph Daywalt, Levi Pitzer, Charles Mickle, Augustus Mickle, Daniel Nunamaker, Michael Minter, Joseph Lentz, John Bluebaugh, Martin Carbaugh, Henry Lady, John Lauver, Daniel Knouse, John Potoff, Calvin Cover, Peter Mickle, Isaac Rife and John Galbraith.

Joseph Shoemaker, who was born July 23, 1839, and is still living in Buchanan Valley, Franklin township, Adams county, was a remarkable rifle shot and deer hunter in his day. He killed many deer with his long, heavy rifle, which was nicely mounted with brass and silver. It shot about eighty balls to the pound and weighed nearly twelve pounds. He shot two bucks in Newman's swamp one day with this rifle. It happened near where the "Piney Mountain Inn" now stands. He was standing on the Baltimore and Pittsburgh Turnpike while doing the shooting. The writer met him while deer hunting a few years ago and he was then carrying that same old long muzzle-loader of his younger days.

William Benchoff, of Blue Ridge Summit, is also one of the few old-time riflemen who is still living. He was one of the best shots in this section of the State in his younger days and until a very few years ago carried his long Johnson rifle, shooting ninety balls to the pound.

Sharp pains took me across the small of my back and at night it was so painful I frequently had to get up and sit in a chair. My kidneys became weakened and acted irregularly. I bought Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's Drug Store and they gave me good benefit. I always keep Doan's on hand in case of necessity."

DELAWARE WINNER IN GREAT GAME

Gettysburg Forced Navy Conquerors to go Two Extra Periods. 31-28.

Fifty minutes of nip and tuck basketball were necessary at Newark, Tuesday night, before the fast going Delaware College five could claim Gettysburg among its victims. Final score 31-28.

When the count stood 26-26 at the end of the regular playing period of forty minutes it was necessary for the two quintets to line up for five extra minutes of play. Alexander, Delaware guard, caged one from under the basket for his team, making the score 28-26 in their favor. "Ginger" Gingerich, fast Gettysburg guard whose playing was a feature throughout the game then dispelled the visions of a Delaware victory when he swished one through the net from beyond the middle of the floor. The first extra period ended 28-28.

Then for the initial time in many seasons the Battleground Boys commenced a second extra period and were nipped out by three points when McCaugan shot three fouls in a row.

During the fore part of the game Gettysburg was outplayed by the Delaware boys who led at half time, 19-13. Immediately after the start of the second half Coach Leathers' proteges braced and tied the count at 19-19. In this half Gettysburg made six field goals to one for the Delaware men who were shut out until four minutes before the final whistle blew.

Although defeated the Battleground Boys played great ball. Since Christmas Delaware has won every game, their most stellar feat being a victory against Navy at Annapolis which until that time had won every game on their schedule.

Gingerich, with five hair raising long shots from near the middle of the floor, was the individual star for Gettysburg while McCaugan excelled for Delaware.

Referee McDevitt called 17 personal fouls on Gettysburg eliminating Gantz, Miller and Mundorff from the game and 8 personal fouls on Delaware. In the last thirty minutes of play he called four fouls on Delaware and sixteen on Gettysburg.

CHRISTY IS WINNING

Word from Christy Mathewson's physician at the Saranac Lake sanatorium states that because Christy was in bed for several months should not be taken to mean he has been desperately ill. Keeping to his bed, it is stated, was part of the new gas treatment he has been taking for tuberculosis. That stage of treatment has been passed and Matty has come through well. He still has a pretty good lung working and from now on that old air-pump will be coached to do the work two used to do. Of course, Matty won't be the man he was physically, but he's good as a hundred dead ones, says the doctor.

police and Federal officers seized narcotics valued at $135,000, destroyed a moonshine still they found in operation and arrested seventeen men.

One rading party fought its way through a narrow passageway in Hester street and after a struggle lasting half an hour, took four men into custody. In one room they found four demijohns of moonshine whisky and a still at work. A further search of the quarters revealed a hidden door, which they battered down.

Behind the wall, the police said, seven men were lying in bunks. The room was murky with opium fumes, they said. In hiding places in both rooms the raiding party found drugs valued at $40,000 and several opium pipes.

Federal operatives found $80,000 in drugs secreted beneath headstones in an old cemetery in Second street yesterday.

JOIN THE DRY FORCES

A man these days is very often subject to severe criticism from the opposing factions by siding with either the "Wet or Dry Forces." While the sun shines very few people give much thought to this serious question.

But it gives you an opportunity to join the "Dry Forces"—which is the only guarantee that you have against the attacks of the "Wet Forces" which come so often in the form of rain, sleet and snow, and frequently endangers your life by causing you to contract dangerous diseases due to your lack of preparedness—so join the "Dry Forces"—by wearing

RAYNESTER GUARANTEED RAINCOATS

Ask the man who wears one, he will tell you that he feels just as dry, warm and comfortable out in the severest rain as he does at home beside the fireside.

NEW HONOR FOR MENALLEN

Claims To Lead County In Number Of Bank Directors.

Menallen township, situated in the northwest corner of the county, has the local reputation of being the leading fruit growing district in Adams, the stronghold of a prominent political party, and one of the most beautiful spots in this part of the state.

Now its residents are claiming a new honor—that of possessing more bank directors than any community of similar population in Pennsylvania or the United States.

Samuel B. Gochenour, of the town of Bendersville, situated in Menallen township, is the man who makes the claim for his district.

According to a present estimate the combined population of the township of Menallen and the borough of Bendersville is approximately 2340 people. In this district of comparatively small population are eighteen men serving as directors of various banks in Ardenstville, Biglerville, Bendersville and Gettysburg.

The list of directors and the banks in which they serve as compiled by Mr. Gochenour are as follows:

James C. Cole and G. F. Smith, Ardenstville National; R. H. Lupp, Fred Griest, Martin Baugher, Biglerville National; J. W. Prickett, Gettysburg National; W. S. Adams, M. E. Knouse and E. C. Tyson, First National of Gettysburg; R. A. Wickersham, Lincoln Trust; S. B. Gochenour, Citizens Trust; W. L. Snyder, W. C. Yeatts, Dr. J. G. Stover, E. H. Miller, I. C. Bucher, L. A. Warren, Frank Garretson, Bendersville National.

CLOTHES AND THE YOUNG MAN

This year the young man has his chance. Business demands greater efficiency.

Business will be more exacting with its demands. But that is just the sort of a chance young men want.

Young men who are determined to make good and forge ahead are going to be particularly careful about their appearance—their clothes. The young man who makes a practice of dressing well will have the advantage. Clothes are necessarily regarded as an index to a man's habits and his own confidence in his ability.

You will find clothes here that possess the quality and style which young men will find a business asset; clothes that are associated with business success.
